Record budget for city—$6,329,525

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
A record high 1974-75 budget of $6,329,525—projecting a deficit of approximately $800,000 in general fund operating costs—is scheduled to be submitted to the Granite City Council for final action in tonight's regular meeting at City Hall.

While the final draft of the new appropriation measure shows anticipated expenditures for all purposes are $749,302 higher than last year's overall budget, part of the increase is absorbed by budget items of the federal revenue sharing funds.

The budget projects expenditures of $5,242,691 in the general fund and the city's separate tax levy accounts, and anticipated costs of $1,086,834 in revenue sharing monies.

Council action is expected following a public hearing on the budget for revenue sharing funds.

The hearing has been scheduled for 8 p.m. in the council chambers immediately preceding the council meeting. No public hearing is requested on that portion of the appropriation bill involving general fund and special account items.

The final draft of the budget climaxes five months of study, meetings and consultations between council members, city finance officials and department heads in an effort to keep expenditures of the current fiscal year at a minimum and thus avoid an even higher deficit. At least two tentative budget drafts were presented to council members earlier this year by the council's finance committee headed by Gerald Parmlay of the Sixth Ward.

Of the total of $5,242,691 budgeted for city operating expenses—excluding all revenue sharing items—

$1,127,488 is appropriated for accounts which have separate tax levy income or revenue from sources other than taxation.

These include the public library, police and fire pensions, general obligation bonds, arterial street maintenance and operation of the city's sewage treatment plant.

This leaves a total budget of

Civic center urged

(Text of Sen. Vadalabene's statement on Page 17)
Unified Madison-St. Clair Counties support for signing of Senate Bill 166, creating a regional Exposition and Performing Arts Authority, was urged at a news conference Friday by the sponsor, State Senator Sam Vadalabene.

Speaking in Collinsville, the Edwardsville Democratic legislator said misunderstanding of the proposal apparently is prompting some to oppose it. Rather than competing with it, it would supplement the scheduled new St. Louis convention center, he asserted.

Saying the proposed facility might best be called a civic center, Sen. Vadalabene stressed that it would serve a wide number of uses and could become self-supporting after two years.

Backing up the bonds would be an account created in 1947 to finance bonuses to World War II veterans. The fund was converted in 1967 to the rebuilding of McCormick Place in Chicago. Its sources are taxes on cigarettes and on parimutuel betting.

"The presence of two major race tracks in the two counties plus the large population base of this region, means that millions of dollars originally generated here have been going to Chicago. Substantial excess revenue is accumulating in this fund," the senator told newsmen.

"This proposal is far and away the best way for us to get this money back and working for the benefit of this area."

"The public needs fuller understanding of the tremendous potential Bill 166 represents. Once it is understood, I feel all will urge Gov. Walker to sign the legislation."

With Sen. Vadalabene at the news conference was Dr. John Paul Davis, SIUE legal counsel. He and Gene Graves, formerly of SIUE, helped draft Bill 166. It was noted that the Exposition and Performing Arts Authority, governed by a 12-member board to be appointed by the governor, would have no taxing powers.

The board would choose a committee to recommend a site. About 50 to 75 acres would be needed, it was estimated. Dr. Davis said that if a tract at SIUE is desired, it could be transferred to the authority free or for $1, since the facility would help meet the campus' need for a sports arena.

Sen. Vadalabene urged that the site be convenient to all areas of Madison-St. Clair Counties, and that there be adequate land readily available with minimal restrictions. He called for construction to proceed soon so that costs will not rise due to inflation, beyond the available financing.

"I'd like to see concrete poured right away," he concluded.

Port control dispute

(Related article on Page 16)

An attempt is being made to switch control of some and perhaps all of the port authorities in the St. Louis metropolitan area, officials of St. Charles County, Mo., have concluded.

The apparent vehicle, they say, is a proposed "memorandum of cooperative understanding" between East-

West Gateway Coordinating Council and Bi-State Development Agency, scheduled for consideration at the July 31 meeting of the East-West board. Bi-State would receive expanded port powers under the memorandum.

Opposition is being voiced by the three St. Charles County Council officials, Presiding Judge Douglas Boschert and Associate Judges Darby R. Tally and J. C. Oliver, who cite their efforts to create a new St. Charles Port Authority.

In a letter last week to John G. Brawley, Bi-State chairman and newly-named Missouri State Transportation Department director, the three officials commented:

"The undersigned Judges of the St. Charles County Court view with concern and some confusion what has happened in the period since you received our letter of intent to create a St. Charles County Port Authority."

"Our letter of intent emphasized: (A) We were applying for a local port authority certification;

(B) That we were specifically not applying for a regional port authority, or part thereof."

"(C) That letter of intent was addressed to the State of Missouri Transportation Commission, to which the state legislature had given authority over the Port Authority Act."

"(D) That we found nothing in the Port Authority Act giving enforcement of administrative powers to any other governmental agency (or bi-state agency)."

"The Port Authority Act authorized cities and counties

Headache ball hits school, memories

The 60-year-old three-story brick structure at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue has not been a center of educational activity for more than a year. But until actual demolition began Friday, the impending demise of Central School had not fully struck home to many of the thousands of former students.

Now, the razing is a visible fact, prompting a surge of nostalgic recollections.

While the building itself helps to focus their thoughts, the memories primarily are of people—former classmates and members of the faculty.

Many teachers served at Central for long periods of time, some instructing several generations of local families. Granite City's public school history dates back 80 years, and Central School itself existed for the last six decades of that span.

Professor L. P. Frohardt, founder of the Granite City public school system, recalled in 1922 that "there was urgent need for a separate high school building. The people responded willingly with an overwhelming vote in favor of the proposition at the annual election in April 1923."

"The Webster addition and the Logan School were completed and occupied in the autumn that year, but the high school (Central School) was not completed till the following spring."

"In April 1914, the high school

Revoke tavern license

Mayor Mike Sasyk has ordered permanent revocation of the liquor license of Big Jenny's Tavern, 1112 State St. The proprietor, Jenny Huey, has appealed the order to the Illinois Liquor Control Commission.

The tavern reopened Friday pending the outcome of the state appeal.

It is alleged that prostitution activity occurred in the tavern area June 24. The revocation cites arrests taking place there that day.

A hearing was conducted July 15, followed by issuance of the revocation order later last week. No date has been set for state action in the case.

Metal Services expanding plant

Metal Services, Inc. located at No. 9 Fox Industrial Park, Madison, is expanding its operating facilities by 50 per cent, according to David Jones, president.

Installation of a high-speed steel processing line with new automated equipment is underway and will require about three months to complete.

Metal Services is a subsidiary of Piper Industries, Inc., and is financing the project through sale of industrial project revenue bonds.

The building in which the company is located originally was owned by Diversified Industries which sold the plant to the city of Madison. The city, in turn, leased it to Metal Services.

Metal Services currently employs 40 plant workers and 10 office employees. The new expansion program will increase the number of employees, Jones said.

The company maintains a service center operation, acquiring coils of steel from mills and converting them into sheets of steel of narrow widths.

Sale of the bonds is being handled by G. H. Walker, Laird, Inc., 1000 Baltimore Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Hospital auxiliary awards scholarships

St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary has awarded four scholarship grants, it was announced this week by auxiliary officers.

Award recipients are Misses Teri Lee and Toni Lorraine Eck, daughters of Mrs. Margaret Eck, 1314 Robin St., Venice; Miss Carla Sue Werthe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Werthe, 2500 Hodges Ave.; and Miss Gail Rene Veizer, daughter of Granite City Police Chief and Mrs. Ronald Veizer, 2727 Willow Ave.

The $400 individual scholarship awards are made available to area residents enrolled in programs of study for any of the allied health fields, including dietetics, inhalation therapy, medical records—library science, medical social work, nursing, medical technology, occupational or physical therapy and x-ray technology.

Auxiliary members said that first-year students and past award winners in good academic standing and continuing financial need are given first preference.

The scholarship award may be applied toward tuition, fees, books and dormitory fees. The recipients may attend an accredited or recognized legitimate institution, not necessarily in Illinois, it was explained.

Miss Toni Eck, 19, is beginning her sophomore year of nursing study at Barnes Hospital School of Nursing, St. Louis.

She is a graduate of Venice High School where she was a member of the Student Council, received achievement awards in health, civics, band, yearbook, FHS and Future Teachers of America, and was named "Crisco Outstanding Homemaking Student" in 1971.

She received an auxiliary scholarship award last year.

Her sister, Teri, 18, was an honor graduate at Venice High School in June. She will start her freshman year of nursing at SIUE THIS FALL.

She was active and earned honors in high school in health, civics, band, FHA, yearbook, cheerleading and is a volunteer each year for the March of Dimes and Muscular Dystrophy drives.

Miss Werthe, 18, was an honor student at Granite City High School South where she was graduated last month.

She has been an active candy stripper volunteer at St. Elizabeth Hospital and is planning to begin her first year of nursing studies this fall at St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing, St. Louis.

Miss Veizer, 18, also was an honor student at Granite City High School South and graduated in June 1974. She was a member of the National Honor Society and was named an Illinois State Scholar in November 1973.

She has served as a volunteer at Alton State Hospital and was in the operating room technician's training program at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She will be a freshman in September at St. Louis University School of Nursing.

Auxiliary to install Aug. 10

Plans for the installation of officers and to attend a state convention were made last week by Tri-City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 at a meeting at the Legion Post Home, 1825 State St.

Mrs. Bonnie Jacob, unit president, who recently was named vice president of Madison, Bond County Legion Auxiliary, said installation of new officers will take place Saturday, Aug. 10, at the post home.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. prior to the ceremonies, and dancing will follow. New officers of the men's organization and the Sons of the American Legion also will be installed Aug. 10.

Mrs. Jacob urged all members and their families to attend and said the public is invited to witness the ceremonies.

Serving as the installation officers for the auxiliary will be Mrs. Helen Richey of Dupont District president, and Mrs. Charlotte Wallace of East Alton Auxiliary Unit, District 22, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Delores Weise, newly elected Unit 113 president, Mrs. Opia Harlan, first vice president and Mrs. Jacob were selected to attend the Illinois American Legion Auxiliary convention.

Mrs. Nellie Hillmer, Unit 113 treasurer, donated a flag to Boy Scout Troop 7 of St. Joseph Church. The youths have agreed to raise the flag each morning and lower the pennant at sunset, she reported.

Mrs. Janice Valle was named chairman of a quilt project in connection with the annual "Charity Days" sale at Nameoki Village Shopping Center, scheduled Sept. 20.

Port control

located on navigable waterways to apply for a district port authority.

"It provided that a number of such districts could, if they chose to do so, join with other districts in the formal creation of a regional port authority. It did not require that they do so.

"When St. Charles and Jefferson counties both announced their intention to apply for their own local port authority, a Post-Dispatch headline said: 'Regional Port District Facing Two Holdouts.'

"This was based, of course, on the unwarranted assumption that a Regional Port Authority had a superior right to take in the port facilities of these neighboring counties and incorporate them into a regional authority.

"When you personally came to St. Charles on July 3 to discuss the situation with the judges of the County Court and certain other interested citizens, you were frank to say that you didn't know what the outcome of the current confusion would be.

"You mentioned that the attorneys for the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council were working up a plan of procedure to effect an orderly development of port facilities. 'You kept assuring us that St. Charles would have its own port.'

"We took this to mean that we would have certification by the Transportation Commission that we would not be subject to any other port authority... and not subject to regulation by any state or port authority agency excepting the Transportation Commission.

"Now, though, we are confronted by an attempt to switch control of Missouri's port authorities to the Bi-State Development Agency — an agency which is vested with authority over port facilities in the Port Authority Act.

"This attempt is clearly indicated in a Memorandum of Cooperative Understanding which, we are informed will be discussed at a meeting of representatives of the Bi-State Development Agency and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council Port Authority Task Force.

"At one point this memorandum says that A. T. Kearney, Inc., management consultants, recommended the establishment of a regional port authority.

"What the memorandum neglects to mention is that Kearney recommends that this step be taken only after four intermediate steps have been taken.

"Kearney suggests that before trying to create a regional port authority, the possibility of strong resistance by local governments should be considered. Second, to consider the possibility that the need for a regional port authority might not have existed in the first place.

"Third, to provide adequate guarantees that the provisions of the Kearney report be protected from subversion by adequate supervision.

"Mayor Williams of East St. Louis suggested that supervision of the report be provided through a committee of responsible individuals — three from Missouri and three from Illinois.

"The Memorandum of Cooperative Understanding states that the Bi-State Agency would undertake to develop the facilities recommended by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council without limitation." The St. Charles officials' letter continued.

"Actually, the bi-state compact places certain conditions on what the Bi-State Development Agency can do in certain areas without getting the approval of the governments of local communities involved.

"Bi-State, therefore, presumably would be required to submit its port authority plans to local governments.

"The Missouri-Illinois bi-state compact under Article III, 'Nothing contained in this compact shall impair the powers of any municipality to develop or improve terminal or other facilities. Here again the Bi-State authority to act without limitation is refuted.

"It should also be noted that there are further limitations on the ability of Bi-State to develop, operate and maintain port plans by the lack of authority to take the property of any state, city, county, borough or village without the permission of the municipality.

"The bi-state compact would permit the Bi-State Development Agency to make suitable rules and regulations for the operation of port facilities.

"But these rules and regulations would be subject to the Constitution, federal and state laws, and the laws of political subdivisions of the areas concerned and, therefore, these rules and

The youth could swim but was not considered a strong swimmer, it was learned.

Members of the Mount Olive Rescue Squad, summoned to the scene, dove repeatedly in the area where the youth was last seen for about 20 minutes before recovering the body. The lake slopes from a shallow shoreline to fairly deep water at that point, Whittier said.

Michael was taken to shore in a canoe and taken to Staunton Hospital, where he was pronounced dead about 11:10 a.m. by Macoupin County Coroner C. J. Driscoll.

regulations would have to be approved by the legislatures of both Missouri and Illinois.

"To say that the Bi-State Development Agency can provide assistance without limitation in the development of a port facility, as suggested in the memorandum of Cooperative Understanding, is obviously incorrect in the light of the following restriction in Article II of the Bi-State Compact:

"...nor shall anything herein impair the bonded indebtedness of any state, county, city, borough, village, township or political subdivision thereof."

"The fact remains that the City of St. Louis Port Authority and three port authorities on the Illinois side of the river were created and are operating without benefit of a regional authority. This gives rise to the question: Why call for a regional port authority now?

"The St. Charles County Court reserves to its citizens and taxpayers the right to promote, manage and operate their land and waterway resources to their own benefit and advantage.

"They are also placed, of course, at the opportunity this gives the people of St. Charles County to make a very great contribution to the economic welfare of the St. Louis area.

"If it is your genuine wish to develop the water resources of St. Charles County Port Authority, to serve the best interests of the St. Louis area and the state of Missouri, we most earnestly suggest that you proceed in good time to grant certification of the St. Charles Port Authority by the Transportation Commission of the State of Missouri.

"We also respectfully suggest that you encourage advocates of a regional port authority to turn their talents to helping St. Charles County to develop obvious potential for greatness as a port authority from which the whole area will receive an appreciable gain in jobs and economic growth."

Record budget

$4,115,200 for general operating expenses, against which the city expects to receive approximately $3,328,268, including taxes, state sales tax allotments and state income tax allotments.

On this basis, the deficit will range from about $785,000 to $800,000, depending upon the city's exact amount of income. Present figures are projected against an anticipated 95 per cent tax collection in 1975, or an estimated tax income of $1,205,276 for general fund purposes.

Other estimated revenue during the 1974-75 year includes $878,500 in state sales tax allotments, $358,000 in state income tax revenue, $55,000 in parking meter fees, $446,250 in licenses, permits and other fees and $292,000 in flood disaster aid funds.

The budget of $1,086,834 in revenue sharing accounts involves federal monies received under the federal revenue sharing act. The budget includes three, four and five. The funds have been divided to pay for many city services and construction equipment that otherwise would have to be financed out of general funds.

Among these is a total of $74,996 for construction of sidewalks in varying amounts in each of the city's seven wards. The budget for entitlement period two also includes $32,323 for payment of wages in arterial street improvements and another item of $7,174 for wages in general government and financial administration departments.

Capital items budgeted for revenue sharing funds of entitlement period three include $109,411 for construction of a new fire house, $15,228 for equipment for the city hall and $40,634 for stormwater drainage.

Capital revenue sharing appropriation for the entitlement period four—a total of $325,699—which includes $42,900 for a new asphalt spreader and roller for the street department, $50,000 for purchase of asphalt and $34,000 for purchase of four new department trucks.

That budget also appropriates $350,000 for sanitary sewer repairs—an item that will help pay off a $1,680,000 rep cost resulting from broken sewer lines since February 1973.

This item, which will pay off part of last year's repair bill in addition to $575,399 appropriated in the general operating budget for maintenance of sewers, $200,000 of which is earmarked specifically for repair work.

The total revenue sharing budget of $1,086,834 for the four entitlement periods compares with $786,641 in similar funds appropriated for the 1973-74 fiscal year. Thus this year's budget reflects an increase of $300,193 over last year's revenue sharing budget.

The new operating budget includes salary increases of $118,834 which brings this year's anticipated payroll over the $2 million mark. Last year's payroll totaled $1,902,835.

In some instances, projected operating expenditures for some of the city's major departments show only slight increases over last year's budget figures, but this is made possible by transferring expected costs of some of the departmental purchases or services to one of the revenue sharing accounts.

For example, this year's total operating budget for the Fire Department is $605,556, a decrease of $789 below last year's $606,345 despite salary increases of $62,278.

This was made possible by placing an appropriation of $50,000 for a new fire truck in the revenue sharing account and trimming the cost of insurance by approximately $8,000. Last year's budget included $40,000 for a fire truck and $41,400 for insurance in the regular operating budget.

Other major departmental appropriations for the new budget include $456,751 for the Street department, up from last year's $400,514. Street department salaries in the new budget total $316,045, up from $235,081.

A total of $79,123 is set up in the new budget for the Police Department, up from $65,111 appropriated last year. Police department salaries in the new budget total $280,266, increased from $263,649 last year.

The new appropriation for general government purposes is set at $201,462, up slightly from $215,232.

The appropriation for air pollution control includes $31,654 in city funds and $35,790 in federal funds, compared to $23,622 in city funds and $29,558 in federal funds last year.

Among other appropriations in the new budget draft, with last year's figures in parentheses: City Hall, $49,245 ($43,787); Interest and judgments, $200,000 ($91,414); Inspection Department, $72,654 ($62,448); Sanitation (garbage and trash

GONE FISHIN'—Aside from great scenic beauty, Argyle Lake offers good fishing, and this boatload of anglers sets out to prove it. At one time state coaches made regular runs through the lake, now occupied by the deep lake.

MACOMB — Should the ghostly shade of one of the old Beardstown-Galena stagecoaches attempt a return run through Argyle Hollow in McDonough County, it's in for a wet passage.

Today, Argyle Hollow is occupied by Argyle Lake, the focal point of the state park it gives its name in western Illinois, seven miles west of Macomb off U.S. 136.

There was a time when the high-wheeled, cumbersome coaches, drawn by four horses, did rumble on a regular schedule through the Hollow which was then part of the old stage route northwest from Beardstown to Galena. Then, Galena was one of the most important cities in the state, and for years the coaches made several trips weekly, in and out.

The state acquired the 1,051-acre park in 1948 and the lake, 93 acres in area with nearly six miles of shoreline, was completed the next year. Early settlers in McDonough County were Scots, and a group of them formed the first Cumberland Presbyterian Church, which initially met at the nearby home of a member. In 1854 the congregation moved to Argyle Presbyterian Church in an area now near the western part of the park. Nostalgia for Scotland apparently led them to name their new community for the famed Argyle County in their homeland.

The wooded areas in Argyle Lake State Park are believed to be at least in part virgin timber. There are foxes, raccoons, mink, muskrats, beaver, skunk, rabbits, quail, squirrels, weasels and opossum in the area and occasionally deer are seen. Because of its variety of trees and flowers as well as wildlife, the park is used by Western Illinois State University at Macomb, and other area schools, as an outdoor laboratory.

The geologist as well as the biologist and botanist finds much of interest in the Argyle Lake vicinity — outcroppings of coal, iron ore, stone and clay abound.

Iron at one time attracted early Indians into the area, and it also drew early white settlers, but today iron plays no great part in local economy. Coal mining nearby was once an important industry, and today several limestone quarries still function, while the making of brick and tile from the clay deposits is a significant industry.

For the visitor, Argyle Lake State Park has four picnic areas, with tables, stoves, water and playground equipment, and there is a concession stand. Camp spaces for tent and trailer camping are available with electric outlets and a disposal station for trailers. In summer, a park interpreter conducts informational-recreational activities.

Argyle Lake was stocked soon after it was completed, but its 40-foot maximum depth did not produce adequate food. In 1970, the lake was drained, rough fish were removed and the lake restocked with Bluegill, largemouth bass and crappie, which still flourish.

There are rental boats available, as well as docks, and one boat launch. Even in winter Argyle Lake is popular, for skating, ice fishing and sledding. The Illinois Conservation Department requires advance registration of any group of 25 or more persons, and also requires that there be at least one responsible adult for each 15 minors in groups with youngsters. Pets are permitted, but must be leashed.

Many small Illinois parks offer beauty, relaxation

LASALLE, Ill. — Natural beauty and teeming plant, animal, and bird life are the chief charms of Matthiessen State Park, located only two miles southwest of the better-known Starved Rock State Park.

Little Matthiessen State Park, a 175-acre tract, was purchased and developed late in the last century by the late F. B. Matthiessen, a prominent LaSalle industrialist and philanthropist. The site was given by his heirs to the state, and it was opened to the public in 1943.

At one time the powerful Illinois confederation of Indians had their homes in the part of Illinois which includes the present park. In the autumn of 1819 a French adventurer, René Robert Cavelier, Sieur de LaSalle, came to the area and in the vicinity of the Matthiessen park site, while Cavelier headed up what amounted to a feudal community, incoming Iroquois Indians contested the region with the Illinois confederation tribes, and the Illinois groups left the field after a number of years. The fort was abandoned in 1702.

Today, the student of geology can enjoy unusual glimpses to see strata usually buried deep. Both the St. Peter sandstone and the Fayette limestone which overlies it have been brought to the surface by the giant uplift named the LaSalle anticline. These formations have produced the spectacular chief canyon, nearly 200 feet deep and ranging from 50 to 150 feet in width.

Also present are beds of sandstone, shale, clay, coal, and limestone from the so-called Pennsylvania or Coal Measures system. Water from the St. Peter sandstone seeps out along canyon walls and, in evaporating, leaves brilliant displays of color on the rocks from the minerals it had carried in solution. Mineral springs surface at several points in the park, all different in composition, and are probably the lure which once made the park a haven for deer.

Lush growths which once were common and now are rare in Illinois can still be found in Matthiessen State Park. Ferns, velvet mosses, and liverworts thrive, and stands of many indigenous trees remain in wide variety. Bittersweet and Virginia creeper hurl banners from the canyon walls, and wild flowers flourish in abundance from the spring Hepatica, wild geranium, Dutchman's breeches and bloodroot, through summer species and ending with asters and goldenrod in the fall.

Small animals abound — rabbits, raccoons, opossums, muskrats, moles and field mice. There are flying squirrels as well as red and gray squirrels, and some wild deer are seen. More than 50 species of birds can be counted.

The park offers two picnic areas with tables, outdoor stoves, playground equipment

BY A WATERFALL — The natural falls pouring through an opening seen over the centuries is one of the many attractions at Matthiessen State Park near LaSalle. The 175-acre park is noted for its natural beauty and unusual geologic formations.

and drinking water. There is a concession stand. During the summer, a park interpreter conducts recreational programs designed to provide nature experience as well as recreation for the visitor. Hikers will find two main trails, each winding about seven miles through the park, while 12 minor trails are also laid out.

As in all Illinois state parks, groups of 25 or more must register in advance to enter the park, and any groups with minors must have at least one responsible adult for each 15 young people. Pets are admitted but must be kept leashed.

Additional information about Matthiessen State Park, located southeast of LaSalle off Ill. Rt. 178, can be obtained from the state Conservation Department or from the ranger at the park.

MASSIVE MONUMENT — This towering figure of a stylized Indian, gazing out over the Rock River, has been dubbed "Black Hawk" by the public, though he was designed around the turn of the century by sculptor Lorado Taft to honor all the generations of Indians who had used the site. The figure is reinforced cast concrete and soars to nearly 50 feet.

scenic park, and during the summer a park interpreter conducts summer recreation programs there.

The Rock River, which winds through the park, flows 34 miles through Ogle County and at the Park provides boating and water skiing activities. A launch ramp is nearly with boat docks, and fishermen will find large-mouth bass, bluegill, sunfish, crappie, channel catfish, northern and walleye pike, bullhead, carp, sucker and drum fish. No swimming is permitted.

The Illinois Conservation Department requires advance registration for groups of 25 or more, and any group with minors must have at least one responsible adult for each 15 minors included.

Additional information can be obtained from the department, or from the ranger at the park, on R.R. 2, Oregon.

WHOSE WOODS THESE ARE — Trees, shade, dappled sunlight, the scurry of small things in the undergrowth, and above all, peace and quiet, typify Spitzer Woods State Park, located near Decatur.

There is no general camping permitted in the park, though an area for youth groups is available, with advance permission of the ranger.

As in all parks and property managed by the state Department of Conservation, all groups of 25 persons or more must have permission to enter the facility, and groups with minors must have on hand at least one responsible adult for each 15 minors.

DECATUR, Ill. — Good things decidedly come in small packages at Spitzer Woods State Park, eight miles west of Decatur and a half mile east of Mt. Zion, off Ill. Rt. 121.

The little park is only 202 acres, but it contains one of the few remaining stands of virgin timber in the entire state. Mrs. Ida B. Spitzer, from whom the park takes its name, was a nature lover all her life, and consistently refused to permit hunting or the cutting of any timber on the land. As a result, the wide varieties of trees and shrubs native to Illinois remained unaltered on the property which also became a haven for animals and birds. Today, Spitzer Woods remains to offer a suggestion of the territory which must have greeted early settlers, when much of east-central Illinois was forested like this remaining tract.

In 1939, two years after Mrs. Spitzer donated the land to the state to assure its preservation, WPA workers doing the development work found two large depressions in the woods, which are believed to have been caused by the back scratching and rolling of the bison which once teemed in the area.

With its varied trees towering over shady ravines, and undergrowth dotted with wild flowers, Spitzer Woods remains much as it must have been in April, 1821, when the first survey was made. At that time, the terrain of the region was described as gently rolling woods containing chiefly oak, hickory, walnut and maple trees. There was also sassafras growing abundantly here, which must have made the area popular with early pioneers who considered a good hot batch of sassafras tea, prepared from the dried root bark, a spring essential to "clear" the blood which had become sluggish after the winter.

Today the trees remain, thanks to Mrs. Spitzer, sheltering deer, rabbits, squirrels, opossum, raccoons, and field and deer mice. Beneath the trees blossom the dogtooth violets, jack-in-the-pulpit, Dutchman's breeches, wild geranium, buttercup, mayapple, red trillium, black-eyed Susan, woodland sunflower, Solomon's seal, bluebells and anemones.

Appropriately for a park whose main attraction is its scenery, Spitzer Woods State Park contains five trails which wind through approximately five miles of parkland. To restore the inner man after the hikes, there are two picnic areas in shaded locations close by parking facilities, with picnic tables, camp stoves, drinking fountains, and flush and pit toilets. There are also a small playground, and a baseball diamond.

A large enclosed shelter building is also located in the park, providing space for family reunions, meetings and special events. Advance reservation must be made with the park ranger.

Local cyclists seek win Tuesday

Granite City riders Dan Durbow and Glenn Falter will seek to become the first local cycle racer to capture a feature race at Tri-City Speedway when American Motorcycle Association short-track racing resumes at 7 p.m. tomorrow with time trials. Racing is set for 8 p.m.

Durbow is ripe for a victory after having consistently in the past captured heat races and semi-final events, finishing in top positions nearly every week in the main event.

Last week, he finished fourth in the feature after taking his heat race and semi-event. Falter, a product of indoor short-track racing has never made a strong showing in the main race, but has been a consistent placer in heats and consolation events.

Oklahoma's Randy Cleek captured the big race last week to snap Texan James Lee's winning streak at two.

Legion Post 113 ends 1974 season at 10-10

Granite City Post 113 ended its 22nd District American Legion baseball competition Friday with a 3-2 loss at Cahokia.

"Our role as a spoiler," commented Coach Conrad Champion, "was spoiled in the seventh inning."

Granite City hurler Ray Smith went the distance on the mound and had a shutout going until Cahokia got three runs on three hits and a walk in the final inning.

Post 113's Bill Carr put the local team on the scoreboard with a home run in the second inning and Granite City scored again in the third.

Mike Martinez walked, Dave Dembek reached base on an error, advancing Martinez to third, and Martinez scored on a double steal.

Post 113 finished the season with a 10-10 record, good for seventh place in league standings.

"We gained valuable experience," added Champion, "and we ended up pretty good, since we were picked at the start of the season to finish only ninth or tenth."

With the 22nd District playoffs scheduled to start Thursday, league-leading Fairview Heights is the only team to have thus far for the four-team tournament.

Defending state champion Highland, third-place Edwardsville and Collinsville and Belleville, both tied for fourth, have games yet to be played before the playoffs begin.

Janssen shows he still knows the way to finish line here

Bethalto's Louie Janssen returned to Tri-City Speedway Friday after an absence of nearly two months and showed the local drivers that he still knows the way to the checkered flag in the late model stock car division.

Janssen started the evening's activities by finishing the first heat race in a dead heat with Centralia's Ron Hourigan.

He then led the 20-lap feature event from start-to-finish, with Len Gittemeier finishing second.

Bill Scherer was the fastest qualifier of the evening with a time of 26.80 seconds, but could only muster a third-place finish in the handicap event, behind thinner Kenny Schrader and Bill Myers.

Gittemeier, after Friday's racing, extended his point lead over defending champion Wib Spalding by 200 points when Spalding failed to make an appearance.

Other late-model stock car race victors were: Ken Spencer, Russ Wallace and Mike Fogelbach.

Granite City's Jack Yates won the sportsman division's feature race. Gary Barker, also of Granite City, was second and Dean Arpe finished far.

Kris Krohn and Bill Broz were heat winners.

Stock car racing in both divisions will resume at 7:30 p.m. Friday with the Fallstaff Summer Classic mid-season championship. The late model event will run a 25-lap feature and the sportsman a 50-lap race.

Mercer wins 3-2; five GC all-stars to play Wednesday

Five Mercer players have been chosen to participate Wednesday in the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League's 1974 all-star game at Highland-Pierson.

The local nine boosted its league record to 7-5 by defeating Highland-Pierson 3-2 here yesterday in a 10-inning thriller.

Mercer had nine hits and four errors while H-P collected eight hits and played flawless ball.

Mercer took a 1-0 lead in the opening inning when Jack Scarborough singled, Larry Corey walked and Steve Schardan was safe on a fielder's choice that scored Scarborough. The local squad made it 2-0 in the sixth. Dave Huddleston singled, Schardan walked and Elv Renzack got a hit.

H-P forced the game into extra innings by scoring two runs on four infield hits and an error in the seventh.

Mercer's Pat Harris relieved starter Mark Boone on the mound in the eighth inning for the win while his teammates got the decisive run.

Harris walked, Scarborough singled, Huddleston was hit by a pitched ball, and Harris scored on a hit by Corey.

In other league contests yesterday, Panama downed Piasa 6-2 and East Alton defeated Livingston 6-2.

Wednesday's 6 p.m. all-star contest will pit members of Blue Division teams against players of Red Division squads.

Mercer players selected to play on the Red Division team are: Scarborough, outfield; Bob Scott, catcher; Huddleston, second base; Bill Campbell, outfield; and Mark Boone, pitcher.

Football Olympics at South Saturday

The Little Rascals Boys' Football Club will sponsor 1974 Granite City Football Olympics this Sunday, July 28, at the Granite City High School South football field.

Boys participating will compete for trophies, and more than 100 ribbons will be awarded to those boys who demonstrate their skills in kicking, passing and punting a football, and also running the ball in long and short dashes.

Most awards will be based on overall points scored in all events.

Competition in these events will be held for boys in the following weight and age divisions—Jr. PeeWee, Pee Wee and Midgets.

The Jr. PeeWee Division is for boys weighing 65 pounds or less and who are nine years old or younger.

The PeeWee division will consist of boys who have not reached the age of 11 before Sept. 2 of the current year and who weigh 85 pounds or less, and also, 11-year-old boys who weigh 75 pounds or less.

The Midget Division will consist of boys weighing 115 pounds or less during the season and who have not reached the age of 13 before Sept. 2, and also, 11-year-old boys who weigh 100 pounds or less.

A five-pound weight allowance will be made for boys over the limits.

Don Kirksey, registration chairman for the program, said all prospective players for the Little Rascals tackle football teams are expected to attend, but competition is open to all boys attending Granite City Olympics.

Weight-in times start at 12:30 p.m. for the Jr. PeeWees; 1:30 p.m. for the Pee Wees; and 2:30 p.m. for the Midgets.

Braves capture division title in Belleville traveling circuit

The first-year Granite City Braves ripped Belleville West twice yesterday, 16-2 and 19-1, to clinch the Green Division championship of the Belleville Area Baseball Traveling League.

The local nine enters Sunday's league playoffs to determine a state meet entry, with a 11-3 mark, two games ahead of Collinsville, which is 9-5. Belleville East is now in third place at 7-7.

League officials will hold a meeting today to draw positions for the playoffs and to determine where the playoffs are to be held.

In the first game with Belleville, Granite City hurler Larry Schleicher scattered four hits while striking out ten batters to gain the victory.

His teammates gave him a 5-0 lead in the second inning. Brian Sikes singled. Jim Simpson walked and Schleicher tripped both home.

Rich Schmidt's triple and Kirk Champion's single followed and Jeff Scarborough also tripped.

The Braves added a run in the third as Tom Manogian doubled and scored on Simpson's single.

The margin became 7-0 in the fifth when Ed Schmidt singled, was sacrificed to second, and scored on a hit by Sikes.

West got to Schleicher for two runs in the fifth but the Braves exploded with nine runs in the seventh.

Tom Manogian reached first on an error and scored on Sikes' triple.

Simpson singled and Schleicher was sent to first on an interference call against the catcher.

Rich Schmidt singled, scoring Simpson and moving Schleicher to third. Next were a hit by Champion, a two-run double by Jeff Scarborough, and hits by Ed Schmidt, Brian Sikes and Simpson.

The Braves began the second game with a three-run first inning on a triple by Rich Schmidt, walk to Ed Schmidt and triple by Jeff Scarborough, who later scored on a wild pitch.

The Braves erupted in the second inning for seven more runs after West had scored its only run of the contest.

Gary Meyer singled and winning pitcher Rich Fancher walked. Rich Schmidt singled, and Ed Schmidt, Scarborough and Daris Davis all drew walks.

A hit batsman and two more walks also figured in the scoring.

Granite City got a run in the third as Fancher walked, stole second and scored on Scarborough's single.

The lead was stretched to 15-1 in the fourth. Tim Leehmann walked and scored on a triple by Randy Lyerla. After a triple by Rich Schmidt, Sikes reached base on an error and scored from second base on a hit by Scarborough.

The Braves' final runs came in the fifth inning.

Lyerla singled and Myers and Fancher were safe on errors.

Rich Schmidt's flyball to rightfield was dropped, scoring two runners, and Sikes tripled.

In preparation for the playoffs, the Braves will travel to Cahokia for an 8 p.m. non-league contest today, and on Thursday at 6 p.m. they will pit their 20-6 overall record against the 31-13 record of the St. Louis Malones team at Wilson Park.

Vote to expand soybean research

Passage of a one-fourth-cent-per-bushel soybean checkoff last week means Illinois soybean farmers realize the importance of building and expanding soybean markets and accelerating soybean research, according to Harold Kuehn of DuQuoin, chairman of the soybean marketing program temporary operating committee.

"This is an important step," Kuehn said. "It's essential that disease-resistant, higher-yielding varieties are developed and that we have markets for the soybeans we produce."

"Soybean yields are going to increase in the future," he predicted, "especially with the assistance provided by Illinois soybean producers through the checkoff."

"Market development activities will be expanded and intensified in some areas. A large portion of the world wants more information about U. S. soybeans, but limited resources have made it impossible to reach all the undeveloped markets."

The voluntary checkoff means one-fourth cent will be deducted from each bushel of soybeans at the first point of sale. However, any producer can have all his checkoff money refunded.

The checkoff money can only be used for production research and market development activities, according to Illinois state law.

A program operating board composed of 15 members from throughout Illinois has been elected and is to administer all checkoff funds.

"We think the checkoff money will allow us to keep soybeans profitable while producing enough to meet an increasing world demand," Kuehn said.

Darla L. Cox becomes Mrs. Michael Minnick

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL J. MINNICK, who were married at the Bethel Evangelical Free Church. The bride is the former Darla Lynn Cox, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Cox, 2907 Sunset Drive. (Otha Studio)

Miss Darla Lynn Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Cox, 2907 Sunset Drive, and Michael James Minnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Minnick, 3812 Johnson Road, were united in marriage in an early afternoon ceremony on July 13.

Two sprays of yellow roses and yellow candles with pastel bows adorned the altar of the Bethel Evangelical Free Church as the Rev. John R. Widwin officiated at the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock.

"We've Only Just Begun," "The Wedding Song" and The Lord's Prayer were sung by Bryan Widwin. He was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Rick Acunig.

The bride chose a gown of white dotted swiss and lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sheer yoke beneath a high standup lace collar. The long, full sleeves were gathered into side lace cuffs and the A-line skirt fell gracefully to the lace-trimmed hemline.

A bouffant veil of bridal illusion mist was attached to a matching headpiece and she carried a cascade of white gardenia, carnations and baby breath, trailing white ribbon streamers.

Miss Denise Cox, a sister of the bride, was the honor attendant. Miss Cindy Szczepanki and Mrs. Donald Harris, also the bride's sister, were bridesmaids.

The honor maid chose a gown of yellow dotted swiss and white lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations intermingled with baby breath and greenery. The bridesmaids selected identical dresses in pink and blue. Their flowers were carnations and baby breath tied to match their gowns.

Elsaine Fansler, the flower girl, wore a similar style frock in pastel green dotted swiss and held a bouquet of carnations and greenery in a complementary color.

She was escorted by Danny Schwandner, the bride's cousin and ringbearer.

The bridegroom chose Robert Steen as his best man. The groomsmen were Don Harris, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mike Pedigo. Guests were seated by Bryan Widwin and Phil Vaughn.

Friends greeted the newlyweds at a reception in the church fellowship hall after the ceremony. The room was decorated with yellow and white flowers and the buffet table held yellow lagars and coordinated appointments.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Charlie's Restaurant. Both Mr. and Mrs. Minnick are graduates of Granite City High School. They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.

Pack 8 cubs tour Shasta Beverage

A tour of the Shasta Beverage Co. on Highway 3 was taken last week by Den 1 Cub Scouts of Pack 8 from the First United Presbyterian Church.

The boys learned the background of the Granite City firm and were shown the methods of making and testing the beverage before placing it in containers.

The group also watched the employees fill and seal the large cans, and each Cub Scout was presented a bank and a soft drink by Jerry Modrusic, who guided the tour.

These making the trip were James Cormier, John Misturak, Don Miller, David Noble, Chris Nash, Mrs. Audrey Cormier and Mrs. July Mills, den leader.

Pack 8 members will meet Monday evening at Wilson Park.

75 at Baptist class picnic

Members of the Candlelighters Class of the Baptist Church and their families held a social event last week for the Adult II Department at the Madison County Baptist Grounds in Mitchell. About 75 attended.

Devotions and prayer were given by the Rev. William Duval.

Members provided covered dish items for a picnic meal, which was followed with a watermelon feast.

Rev. Eugene Cox officiated at the double ring service.

Mrs. Virgie Collins, organist, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Loretta Slater, who sang "Love Story." "Sunrise Sunset" and "We've Only Just Begun" and The Lord's Prayer.

The bride wore a gown of pure white Alencon lace over white shimmer satin designed with a standup collar, trimmed with a scalloped ruffle.

2 toddlers found in street at night

Police were called to the 2900 block of Marshall Avenue at 10:50 p.m. Friday after two small children were seen wandering in the street.

Officers found a 3-year-old girl and her 2-year-old brother who led them to a nearby house. There a woman said the youngsters, together with an 11-month-old baby girl and a 5-year-old boy, had been left by their mother. The woman said the two children apparently left the home while she was at the rear of the dwelling.

The woman told police she did not know the mother well, but had agreed to care for the children to avoid them being left alone.

Police took the infant to St. Elizabeth Hospital for a physical examination and notified the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

At 1:30 a.m. Saturday, the mother came to police headquarters seeking the children. They were released to her custody by a family services officer.

Earnings for 2nd quarter

Apleton, Wis.—Post Corporation on Friday reported earnings of $225,025, or 25 cents per share, for the second quarter. This compares with $254,253 or 61 cents a year ago.

The lower earnings for the quarter were entirely caused by continued losses at the firm's subsidiary, All-Star Insurance Corp., a spokesman said. Post's consolidated (non-insurance) earnings earned $35,130 for the quarter, compared with $7,263 last year.

All-Star reported a loss from operations of $10,105 for the quarter, and it also lost $68,676 in securities transactions. Thus, Post's earnings including securities transactions were $-5,349 or 18 cents a share.

Post Corp. had reported a loss for the first quarter, when All-Star was the principal contributor. "For the year, to date (six months), Post now shows earnings from operations of $53,118 or four cents a share, compared with $800,356 or 88 cents per share last year."

During these six months, All-Star lost $400,345 in operations plus $91,993 in securities transactions.

Post's other operations — principally newspapers and broadcast stations — earned $23,563 for the six months, compared with $484,067 a year ago.

When securities transactions are included, Post is still in a loss position for the six months — a loss of $56,875 compared with a profit of $802,679 last year at this time.

Candidates making '74 a 'year of the woman'

Michael J. Howlett, Illinois secretary of state, on Sunday night said his office has started a pilot program to make job training and promotion opportunities available at professional levels for part-time women workers.

He discussed his plans in an address to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs convention in the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago.

"Every third worker in the U.S. labor force is now a woman," said Howlett. "But many more are qualified to serve who are tied up with keeping house and raising their children."

In our pilot program, we have developed part-time jobs for professional as well as clerical workers, in which either women or men could serve.

"We don't earmark these jobs just for women. That would be discriminating against men. But we open them to men and women alike, on their merits."

"In our office, we provide equal pay for equal work. It is the law. And it is up to women as a group to see that laws for equal pay are enforced and their coverage expanded."

"It would be to any employer's advantage to provide qualified women a chance for better jobs, just to increase the productivity of his own investment."

Howlett said 1974 may prove to be Year of the American Woman in public affairs, with more than 100 women running for Congress and 10 for governor.

"There is no public office beyond the reach of a qualified woman," said Howlett.

"While progress may seem slow for now, progress is being made."

"Advancement of women in government is a step toward equality of opportunity for women in business, the professions, industry, education—even such practical matters as the opportunity to borrow money."

Seminary octet will sing liturgical music

"The '74 Summer Octet" of St. Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary, Crestwood, N.Y., by special arrangement, will present programs of Orthodox liturgical music in the St. Louis and Madison areas July 27-28.

On Saturday at 6 p.m., the group will sing responses at a vesper service at St. Michael's Russian Orthodox Church, 1901 Ave. St. Louis.

The Rt. Rev. John Tertichny, pastor of St. Michael's Church, and Rev. Vladimir Lecko, pastor of the Nativity of Virgin Mary Church in Madison, will officiate with visiting clergy.

Following this service, the octet will give a concert, open to the public, of sacred and folk music at 8 p.m. Saturday at Mt. Tabor Fellowship Hall, 6520 Arsenal St., St. Louis. A short documentary film, "Orthodoxy in America," will be shown and religious books, articles and records will be on display.

On Sunday, July 29, at 10 a.m., a divine liturgy service will be held in an outdoor setting on the grounds of the Shell Oil Co., Wood River.

The Rt. Rev. Tertichny and Rev. Lecko will celebrate with visiting clergy and the octet will sing the responses. A family-style picnic will follow, featuring a barbecued lunch, and there will be sports events for adults and children.

Purpose of the octet's visit is to present the work of St. Vladimir's Seminary to recruit young men interested in the priesthood of the Orthodox faith, and to help raise funds for the work of the seminary.

The eight singers of the octet are all members of the St. Vladimir's Seminary a cappella choir, which has received nationwide acclaim for its rendition of ancient Slavonic chants and Orthodox liturgical music.

The octet will visit 80 churches in its coast-to-coast, three-month tour.

St. Michael's Russian Orthodox Church in St. Louis and Nativity of Virgin Mary Church in Madison are selected by the seminary for the presentation of the musical program in this area. A joint committee comprised of members of both churches is responsible for the planned events.

St. Vladimir's Seminary, a graduate school of Orthodox theology, is located in Westchester County, 15 miles north of New York City.

It prepares students of all the national jurisdictions (Albanian, Bulgarian, Greek, Romanian, Russian, Serbian, Syrian, Japanese, etc.) for service in the Orthodox Church in America and throughout the world as priests, professors, church school teachers and their directors.

Members of the '74 Summer Octet are: Drew Clements, Cleveland, Ohio; George Johnson, Monaca, Pa.; John Lickwar, Hammond, Ind.; John Matusiak, Erie, Pa.; Vladimir Nehrebeck, Paramus, N.J.; Yaroslav Roman, Lebanon, N.J.; Michael Soroka, Charleroi, Pa.; and David Vernak, Freedom, Pa.

Ragtime ensemble and Sha Na Na at Festival

Award-winning animated films are the subject at the Mississippi River Festival film festival tonight and the New England Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble will bring Scott Joplin tunes to the festival at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The rock group, Sha Na Na, will appear Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the MRF concert area of the SIUE campus.

Films which will be shown at 8:30 this evening are varied. "Zagreb Festival" is a series of films without dialogue from the Zagreb Film Studios in Yugoslavia; the subject matter is not suitable for children.

Two animated short films, "Why Man Creates" and "The Dot and the Line," are described as sure to delight any filmgoer.

The New England Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble appearing Tuesday was formed by Gunther Schuller, the Conservatory's president, in the spring of 1972 as part of a Romantic American Music Festival.

It has grown into a nationally renowned musical group with universal acclaim, a Grammy Award, and a place atop sales charts.

The Ensemble's original concert was performed as an effort to acquaint the Festival audience with the work of a unique American composer.

Its repertoire has since expanded from the eight Scott Joplin pieces first recorded to 40 compositions, including the work of ragtime masters James Scott and Joseph Lamb, and of the predecessors of Scott Joplin—Louis Moreau Gottschalk, Debussy, Ives, Stravinsky—plus Jelly Roll Joplin tunes and other songs at the River Festival on the SIUE campus tomorrow night.

Feliciano with Symphony at Festival this weekend

The July 27-28 weekend brings New Jersey Symphony Music Director Henry Lewis to the podium of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra with famed guitarists the Romeros, followed by Gerhardt Zimmermann conducting the orchestra in a program featuring Jose Feliciano.

The Saturday concert begins at 8:30 with Lewis conducting Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6, "Pathétique," Ravel's Bolero, and the Romeros joining the orchestra for Rodrigo's Concierto Andaluz.

Henry Lewis began piano studies at the age of five and eventually mastered most of the standard instruments of the orchestra.

At 16 he was awarded a double bass chair with the Los Angeles Philharmonic and became that orchestra's youngest member.

While in the Army, Lewis played double bass in the Seventh Army Symphony Stuttgart and was eventually chosen as music director.

Two years after his return from the Army, he founded the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra, which toured Europe in 1963.

After Lewis replaced Igor Markevitch, who became too ill to conduct a pair of Los Angeles Philharmonic concerts, he achieved national recognition and has since guest conducted with every major U.S. orchestra. Lewis has made several recordings for London Records.

Celedonio Romero and his three sons—Celin, Pepe and Rafael—settled in the United States in 1958 to settle in the United States.

For more than a decade, they have enjoyed annual sold-out coast-to-coast tours, appearing with every major orchestra in the United States, and they have been widely acclaimed on three European tours.

They have come to be known on the international concert scene as "The Royal Family of the Guitar," and have also made television appearances on such programs as the Tonight Show, Today Show, Ed Sullivan and NET's Evening at the Pops in 1970.

The Romeros have commissioned many compositions, among them Joaquin Rodrigo's Concierto Andaluz, which they performed at Powell Symphony Hall in January 1970 and which they will repeat in this concert.

The work was premiered in 1967 with the San Antonio Symphony and performed in 1968 with the Philadelphia Orchestra, achieving critical success.

The Sunday concert begins at 7:30 and Zimmermann, assistant conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, has chosen a program of Supp's Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna, Grieg's The White Peacock, and Tchaikovsky's Romeo and Juliet.

Guitarist Jose Feliciano will join the orchestra in selections which include Light My Fire, California Dreamin', Rain, JOSE FELICIANO. He will sing and play the guitar at Sunday's St. Louis Symphony Orchestra concert at the Mississippi River Festival at SIUE.

Lean on Me, Malaguena and Chico and the Man.

Blind since his birth, on Sept. 10, 1945, in a rural town of Puerto Rico, Jose Feliciano is the second of a dozen children.

He spent a crowded early childhood in New York's Spanish Harlem, turning inward to himself and to music. He first began picking out chords on a second-hand accordion, and at nine graduated to guitar.

He made his first public performance at El Teatro Puerto Rico in the Bronx before he was 10.

For several years he sang in Greenwich Village coffee houses and in 1964 his first single, "Everybody Do the Click," was released. The same year, he electrified audiences at the Newport Jazz Festival.

In 1968, Feliciano won Grammy Awards as Best New Artist and Best Male Vocalist of the Year.

He now has 31 Gold Albums to his credit and performs on television and in recitals and with symphony orchestras throughout the world.

He recently composed the theme for David L. Wolper's NBC-TV series, "Chico and the Man" and will perform the theme at the Mississippi River Festival.

Musically, Feliciano identifies with Brazil's Luis Bonfá, the late Wes Montgomery and Django Reinhardt—vocally, with Sam Cooke and Ray Charles, among others.

Tickets for both Symphony performances are available at bi-state area box offices and at the Festival site.

Special education levy ok'd

A resolution authorizing a tax levy of 4 cents per $100 assessed valuation for establishing special education classrooms or remodeling school buildings for special education classes was approved for the 1975-76 school year by the Madison Board of Education Thursday night.

The special tax has been invoked annually for the two previous years and may be applied annually for the next four years.

The fund now has a balance of $50,000 from previous tax levies. The funds may not be spent for any purpose other than special education facilities.

Board President Chester McMannaway called a special meeting of the board at 7 p.m. Tuesday to interview three applicants for the position of principal at Madison High School. In other personnel action, the board rehired four administrators: Porter Cawly, Richard Spillers, Bernard Long and Arthur Carter. Assignments for the next school year have not been made for the four men.

Mrs. Virginia Guldge was hired for one year as a sixth-grade teacher at Dunbar School.

The board approved the hiring of four new employees if funds are made available by Manpower, Inc., which is an extension of the former Emergency Employment Act. Dr. Earl Morris notified Madison School Superintendent John Palchiff of the possibility funds will be provided. Persons hired must be unemployed and the positions must be new ones, Palchiff said.

The board approved hiring two teacher aides at the high school to assist the physical education teachers, providing better supervision in the locker rooms and between classes.

Charles R. Steptoe, coordinator for the Madison School and the Belleville Area College reported that under a general studies program, 23 different courses will be offered at Madison. The courses are primarily planned for adults.

Mrs. Marguerite Connole, assistant curriculum director, announced that through the efforts of Mrs. Margaret Lee, of the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Council, and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, all fourth graders from Venice and Madison public and parochial schools will attend a symphony concert in the fall.

Graduate students from SIUE will visit the fourth graders prior to the symphony program and explain to the children what they will hear and see.

A letter from Harold E. "Gene" Briggs, superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region was read, announcing the appointment of Raymond Dragich, former Madison teacher and superintendent, as Briggs' assistant.

The Plaza Fuel Oil Co. was awarded the 1974-75 fuel oil contract at 30.9 cents per gallon for number 2 fuel oil. No other bids were received.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

Was our face red? Last week when everyone in town was out of pickling salt and people were coming in saying "we knew that if anyone had it you would", we didn't have it. Very unusual to say the least. But we have a shipment scheduled for tonight and if all goes well, Tuesday morning there will be pickling salt on the shelf.

Dr. Friedman continues to make improvement and Mrs. Friedman tells me that the Doctors are considering sending him home soon. Good news. We just received an item that we ordered specially for the "Doc" called Morton's seasoned imitation salt. Those of you on salt restricted diets might wish to try it.

The big news this week is a big beef sale. The beef market is advancing, but we made a buy and we're passing it on to you. We have told many people not to buy freezer beef at various times, but we say "buy now". Whether you buy side, quarter, or just stock you freezer with favorite cuts (we think the latter is the wisest) BUY THIS WEEK. We will honor all orders placed this week at the sale price, regardless of when we process them. So, read our "Beef Ad" carefully, decide on your requirements, and come on down and place your orders.

GC concerned over rail crossings

Concern over the possibility of a serious or fatal accident on rough railroad crossings in the downtown Granite City area was expressed by aldermen at the city council meeting last week.

A copy of a letter from Harry Stern, chief railroad engineer for the Illinois Commerce Commission to State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) was turned to the council, indicating he felt Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City was happy with the state's program for improving railroad crossings.

Alderman Walter Noon of the Fifth Ward called the letter "back passing" and ordered the letter placed on file without any action or response.

Noon said railroad cars are being parked within a few feet of crossings, making it impossible for motorists to see approaching trains. "Someday you're going to have the big accident I've been telling you will happen," he predicted.

Alderman Frank Greenwald of the Second Ward agreed, saying, "Nothing is ever done until there is a serious accident." He cited a fatal accident at the Lake Drive crossing near Pontoon Beach which has spurred citizen and governmental action to try to get railroad crossing lights and gates at that crossing.

Alderman Claude Green of the Fourth Ward added, "At some crossings, the weeds are as high as your head or higher. You can't see. The railroads are not burning off the weeds this year."

Mayor Paul Schuler jokingly replied, "Maybe they're trying to conserve fuel (to start the fires) due to the shortage."

Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward commented, "The railroads are making improvements elsewhere, but they say they can't afford it in Granite City. That's ridiculous."

The board also heard a letter from Robert E. Kronst, district engineer for the Illinois Department of Transportation, indicating he had reviewed Johnson Road repaving and found it acceptable to his department.

The council had been withholding $48,696, or about 10 per cent of the payment to the contractor, G. H. Sternberg & Co. of Granite City, pending response from DOT on a request for a second state inspection to see if the project met all specifications.

Aldermen had requested the second inspection after indicating they felt not all necessary curbing replacements had been completed and they felt the road was not as smooth as it should be.

In his letter, Kronst said, "I personally inspected the project on July 9, with my local roads engineer and found that the improvement was built substantially in conformance with the plans and specifications and is acceptable to the district office."

"However," the letter continued, "we find that cores of pavement to determine thickness have not yet been made by the department. It is therefore recommended that one per cent of the total contract price be retained until the results of the tests have been determined."

A total of $44,913 was ordered

New federal career examination policy

The U.S. Civil Service Commission has announced that the Federal Service Entrance Examination will be replaced in October by a new Professional and Administrative Career Examination (PACE).

The announcement was released by David R. Van Horn, director of University Placement at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

PACE will serve as a principal means of entry into federal civil service for college graduates and others with appropriate responsible work experience.

It will be used to fill a variety of entrance-level positions of a professional, administrative or technical nature.

Specialized civil service examinations covering professional positions in engineering, science, accounting and some other fields—as well as separate examinations for positions at grades above entry fields—will continue unchanged.

A major difference in the new examination plan is that a separate management intern option will not be included during the first year of operation.

Civil Service Commission Chairman Robert E. Hampton said, "The Federal Service Entrance Examination has served the nation well. Since it was first announced in 1955, federal agencies have used it to fill more than 165,000 positions."

"But we have reached the point where many changes have taken place in government occupations, and many advances have been made in the identification of abilities needed for successful job performance. It is time for these improvements to be reflected in a new examination procedure."

The new PACE examination will be issued in October. The first written test is planned for November 1974 and subsequent exams will be held monthly from January through May of 1975.

Log rolling, wandering and wild food among state park features

Those who cherish the unusual experience will be able to challenge a champion log roller, wander for a weekend, safely nibble a wild mushroom or see how the early settlers observed Christmas, by taking part in special events planned by the State Conservation Department in coming months.

A dozen special events have been scheduled for the present fiscal year by the department.

The list began with New Salem Days—A Sketch in Time, held July 20 and 21 at Lincoln's New Salem State Park.

Final event on the new calendar will be Jubilee College's annual Old English Faire, next June 25 and 27.

In between are repetitions of several standard, popular special events, and some brand new ones.

The new offerings include the department's completely new activities at the state fair, Aug. 9 through 18, where among other things a champion log rolling team will be on hand to give demonstrations and accept challenges from any volunteers.

On Sept. 28 and 29, the department will unveil another new program, a Wanderers' Weekend at Lake Le-Aqua-Na and Apple River Canyon state parks, which lie about 15 miles apart in Northern Illinois.

Events planned so far there will include utilizing the scenic and quiet country roads of the area for bicycle trips, bike races, organized hikes between the parks, and possibly overnight camping-hiking programs and events for horseback riders.

Also new this year will be New Salem Christmas, on Dec. 14 and 15.

The program is part of an attempt to get more year-round use for New Salem State Park. A major tourist attraction from early spring through late fall, it draws far fewer people during the winter months.

There will be appropriately decorated trees, and typical pioneer trimmings in the cabins, where candles in the windows will illuminate the wintry Yule scene.

Next spring, the final new event will be held—a wild food festival scheduled for Sam Parr state park in Southeastern Illinois.

Visitors at that event will be shown a variety of edibles which can be safely gathered from wild surroundings. The wild food festival is scheduled for May 17 and 18.

Other events on the department's special event calendar include the Turn of the Century Celebration at Siloam Springs State Park Sept. 14 and 15; the Bishop Hill Jordbruk Dagarna, a harvest festival, to be held Oct. 5 and 6 at the commune built by Swedish immigrants; Fort Massac's colonial days, Nov. 2 and 3; Rock Out Winter Carnival at Rock Cut State Park next Feb. 15 and 16; Ferns Clyffe Country Days at Ferns Clyffe State Park on April 26 and 27, and the Fort Chartres Rendezvous June 7 and 8.

Mrs. Maxeiner had been a patient at a Wood River nursing home.

New food stamp regulations

The Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture has issued new regulations for the food stamp program.

The regulations implement amendments to the Food Stamp Act contained in the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 (Public Law 93-86). They also include revisions resulting from the Supreme Court decision that the "tax dependency" and "relatedness" provisions are unconstitutional, and make other necessary changes in the program.

The new regulations became effective Monday. States must complete implementation of the new provisions which directly relate to the certification of households by Nov. 1, for all new applications and any subsequent applications, and by March 1, 1975, for all other households.

The new regulations make the following changes:

—Broaden eligibility categories to include the elderly in federally sponsored housing, and drug addicts and alcoholics in private nonprofit residential treatment facilities.

—Allow the elderly to use food coupons to purchase meals in specified communal dining situations.

—Require states to give welfare recipients the option to have the costs of their coupons deducted from their grant and the coupons mailed to them. States must implement this provision by July 1, 1975.

—Allow recipients affected by the unavoidable breakdown of food stamp equipment to apply for food stamps under emergency eligibility standards.

—Require that income include the actual value of housing received in kind from an employer but not in excess of $25 per month.

—Allow households living in remote areas of Alaska to use food coupons to purchase certain hunting and fishing equipment for procuring food.

—Require that recipients be citizens of the United States or legally permanent residents.

—Ban participation by strikers after a court has determined the strike illegal.

—Reduce from 15 to 10 days the advance notice period given households whose benefits are being reduced or terminated.

—Provide for a standard utility allowance unless the recipient can verify his actual costs.

—Require recipients to report changes in their income and deductions within 10 days, if the change is $25 or more. Similarly, states must act on such changes within 10 days.

—Prohibit states from using personnel or facilities from either side of a strike or lockout to certify households for the food stamp program.

—Require that after 30 days from the date of registration for employment all able-bodied food stamp recipients accept jobs outside their major field of experience.

Public comments were invited when the regulations were published in proposed form in the Federal Register on Jan. 20. FNS received over 2,000 comments which were considered in the finalization of the regulations.

Restaurant closing hour request denied by GC

A request to order a restaurant on Nameoki Road to close its drive-through facility at midnight each night was rejected by the Granite City Council last week.

City Attorney George Filcoff said such an order would necessitate closing all restaurants in the city at midnight or the city might face legal action for discrimination.

Filcoff said city officials could ask for the voluntary cooperation of the restaurant operator in closing the drive-through lane at midnight.

Aldermen indicated they had received numerous complaints from residents who reside near the restaurant of loud car engines and other noise there most of the night.

The council approved several recommendations of the city Plan Commission and Board of Zoning Appeals, but overruled both boards on one case.

A request by James Rice, 2820 Dogwood Drive, for a carport one and one-half feet from his side property line was recommended for approval by the appeals board but was rejected by the council on a 10-4 vote.

A Plan Commission recommendation that the petition of Albert Dunn Jr., 2221 Cleveland Blvd., for a beauty shop in his home be denied was overridden by the city council by a 12-1 vote, thus allowing the shop a special use permit for the business.

The council concurred in the zoning appeals board's recommendations to approve requests of Larry Frazier, 2008 Amos Ave., for a carport three feet from his property line; William Simpson, 2446 Delmar Ave., for construction of a garage two feet from his side property line; Michael Chandler, 2417 St. Clair Ave., a carport and family room four feet from his property line; and Ralph Watson, 2455 Logan Ave., for a garage one foot from his side property line.

Civic center to be operated by 12-member Exposition and Performing Arts Authority board would be tremendous economic, cultural asset to this area

A strong case was made at a press conference Friday by state Senator Sam Vadalabene for approval and implementation of the Exposition and Performing Arts Authority outlined in Senate Bill 166.

The $15 million civic center proposed for Madison and St. Clair Counties would be of direct value to this region in a number of ways and is estimated to become self-supporting within two years.

With its two horse race tracks and its many cigarette smokers, this part of Illinois has for years contributed big sums to the McCormick Place (Chicago) bond fund which now has excess revenue each year. It would make only an imperceptible dent in this account to pledge its backing to a Madison-St. Clair revenue bond issue.

The theater-meeting-sports-recreation-conference center would truly serve this area. Each county would provide six of the 12 board members, chosen by the governor and confirmed by the Illinois Senate. It would have no taxing powers, and it could encourage specific programs, such as for senior citizens or the retarded, by reducing or waiving fees. Most events would be charged rent, in turn used to pay off the bonds.

The civic center and related projects would inject a tremendous economic stimulus for this region, meanwhile meeting a number of urgent, documented needs.

Letters, visits, petitions or other means of expressing local backing for the proposal are highly appropriate at this time. They should be directed to the attention of Governor Dan Walker, who is currently deciding whether to sign or veto Senate Bill 166.

Happy news includes bright outlook at GC, American, Laclede steel firms

Newspapers are sometimes thought of as spotlighting calamities and the negative side of the news. However, informal tabulations show that happy tidings far outnumber sad occurrences. It's just that people often remember the bad news more than the good.

A case in point is the labor and industrial outlook. The long strike delaying general construction work in most of the state hurt severely, coming as it did during the year's best construction weather.

But building has resumed in all of the 89 affected counties.

Word from labor and management at Granite City Steel is that the feared deadline of Aug. 1 for a new multiple-year contract is likely to pass uneventfully.

A. O. Smith Corp. plant employment has been down due to the lower auto sales stemming from public concern over fuel supply and costs. But the situation seems to have stabilized, and there is considerable demand for the medium, standard and luxury size autos utilizing frames produced here.

Past run around on warning signals

To the Editor:

I have advised State Senator Sam Vadalabene that last year we contacted the Illinois Commerce Commission about the dangerous railroad crossings at Lake Drive and Mockingbird Lane in Namek Township.

At that time we got what we thought was a run around from the ICC.

Now we hear the unnecessary death July 4 of Lynda Atkinson, age 19, that could have been prevented with crossing lights at these intersections.

I enclosed the photographs from the Granite City Press-Record showing the condition of these railroad crossings.

I asked Senator Sam to bring the matter to the attention of the Illinois Commerce Commission before additional deaths are recorded in this heavily populated area.

State's legal position endangered

To the Editor:

Months ago I testified before both the House and Senate Committees and pointed out that Gov. Walker's demand that the lawmakers give him direct authority to hire $3,000,000 of attorneys to conduct the state's legal business violated the Illinois Constitution.

This was based on a June 1972 unanimous ruling by the Illinois Supreme Court.

That the attorney general is the sole official adviser of the executive officers and of all boards, commissions and departments of the state government, and it is his duty to conduct the law business of the state, both in and out of the courts.

I raised this point not only because Gov. Walker had developed a virtual army of lawyers who were giving conflicting legal opinions and refusing to allow the attorney general's office access to the legal files of the state—but because Walker's lawyers were actually going to court and jeopardizing the legal position of the state.

The proper place to correct this situation is in the legislature, since the legislators make the laws of the state, not the executive branch or the courts.

However, by deliberately delaying the debate on this issue until the last two days of the legislative session, Gov. Walker's people were able to thwart the will of the majority of the legislature and at the same time blame me for six months of inaction on their part.

Worse than that, these tactics are a deliberate attempt to place the possibility of innocent people—career employees of the state government—facing possible payoffs.

I could not and would not allow that to happen.

For that reason alone, I asked the legislature to remove the amendment requiring that assistant attorneys-general handle the legal services from the 15 or more state departments, boards or agencies whose budgets were still in conference committee.

The budgets of two other state agencies, the Environmental Agency and the Liquor Control Commission, were no longer in conference committee.

The amendments requiring that legal service expenditures by these agencies be authorized and coordinated by the attorney general was passed by majority vote of both the House of

The real World Cup champ!

No way U. S. can maintain present Social Security tax-benefit pattern

Wall Street Journal—We read with interest a coverage in U.S. News and World Report on the Social Security System, which concludes that the system is in a desperately poor financial condition.

The failure to reform Social Security, almost everyone agrees, could lead in the long run to a disaster.

It is worse than that. U.S. News says that by 1990, even though a worker pays a 22.6 percent Social Security tax of $2.43, which has to be matched by his employer, the system will be paying out $20 billion more in benefits than it takes in that year.

To supply the assumptions created into these numbers are those of the Social Security Administration, numbers that are obsolete and ridiculously optimistic.

U.S. taxes are increased substantially, or benefits reduced substantially, or both, in order to pay off the $20 billion deficit on the order of $20 billion could arrive by 1980.

growing by leaps and bounds from there.

The most disheartening number, an official one, is provided by the Treasury Department.

As of June 30, 1973, the unfunded liability of the system was $2.1 trillion.

Another way of putting it is this:

In a very real economic sense, the nation's debt is at least $2.1 trillion larger than the politicians say it is.

If, as of June 30, 1973, the system had refused to accept new workers, saying it would only collect taxes and pay benefits to those already retired, its outlays over the next 75 years would exceed receipts by $2.1 trillion, plus market rates of interest compounded annually.

In the last year, this number has grown by about $300 billion.

So far, Congress has blinked and refused to act, but by passing a law that defines "actuarial soundness," its reasoning is that the SSS would never close off to new work-force entrants, hence there would always be new workers to pay the benefits to new recipients.

By the Congressional "dynamic assumptions" definition of actuarial soundness, the system can only pay off $62 billion, spread over the next 75 years.

As it happens, for the dynamic assumptions method to hold up, the assumptions have to be as dynamic in reality as they were on the planning boards. They have not been.

Working on the 1960 Census figures, the Social Security bureaucrats projected a 1964-65 birthrate gradually declining from 21 per 1,000 to 20 per 1,000, and then climbing again.

Instead, the birthrate dropped like a stone throughout the period and now stands at around 15 per 1,000.

The bureaucrats projected a growth in real wages over the period of 2.1 per cent a year; between 1965 and 1973 real wage growth averaged 1.7 per cent.

The errors imply much higher taxes are required to sustain benefit levels, and of course the economic instability of Congress continues to hike benefit levels.

How much higher taxes? "Actuarial Audit of the Social Security System," Robert Kaplan of Carnegie-Mellon University and Roman Weil of the University of Chicago assert that realistic assumptions "imply taxes 50 per cent to 75 per cent higher than current levels."

The SSS actuaries will not be able to avoid admitting out of this when they put out their new assumptions based on the 1970 Census.

The Kaplan-Weil argument is that the dynamics have changed since 1970 and should be faced up to now.

What's to be done?

The first thing is that the public has to be told, by the politicians, that it is not possible to maintain the current rate schedule and benefit level.

One or both have to be adjusted.

It is of vital importance that the public be told that most of the work force is now coming on the purchasing power that the current benefit levels yield for their retirement years.

Congress may cringe at the idea of trimming these benefit levels, but sharp tax boosts won't be popular, either.

Liberals will want to dip into the general fund to keep the system going a little longer, but within two or three years this method will be cleaning out the Treasury.

All other "worthwhile" government programs will have to be chopped out to sustain Social Security.

That, too, appears to be politically impossible.

Indeed, there are no politically appealing ways to straighten out this mess. But the longer the nation waits to do it, the more it will hurt.

2 new cemeteries created

JULY 22, 1974

Because of the fast growth of Granite City, rapid filling of cemeteries lying at the edge of the city, and the fact that the city is growing around them, two new cemetery sites have been purchased.

The Rev. D. J. Ryan of St.

Joseph's Catholic Church has purchased a 40-acre site on the hard road between here and Edwardsville and it will be known as Calvary Cemetery.

And a group of local businessmen, philanthropically inclined, acquired 30 acres on the same road to be known as Sunset Hill Cemetery.

source to retire bonds for each of these civic centers.

Let me make one final point. I think that the authority should act with great dispatch in choosing a location and planning the facility.

Wherever the board might decide to locate the center, I would like to suggest three basic criteria for its decision.

First, the location must be accessible from all corners of the area, maintaining reasonable balance relative to the dispersed nature.

Second, they should look for adequate land readily available with minimal restraints on its use so that the center can

Third, the location decision should consider minimizing costs associated with land acquisition and get to the construction stage as soon as possible, so that neither land costs nor inflation eat away at the statutory dollar amount available for construction.

Perhaps some people think that we want to try to compete with the $28 million convention

Miss Dorothy Fryntzko, Jerry L. Ronk are wed

St. Elizabeth Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Dorothy Jean Fryntzko, who became the bride of Jerry Lee Ronk on June 15 at 2 p.m.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fryntzko, 2545 Boyle Ave., and the groom is a son of Omar Ronk, 1627 Moro Ave.

"A Time for Us," "The Wedding Song," "Today," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Follow Me" were selections played by the guitarist and vocalist.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly and the Rev. David B. Maxton.

Given by her father in marriage, the bride selected a gown of white organza over tulle designed with a scoop neckline, accented with scalloped edges of sequined lace.

The long, full sleeves were cuffed with wide bands of lace and a bow accented the back of the gown. A deep flounce of matching scalloped lace bordered the skirt hem.

White daisies and lace created the headpiece to secure a full length veil of illusion and scalloped lace. Her flowers were white carnations and daisies, festooned with long yellow streamers.

Mrs. Barbara Simmons, matron of honor, served with Miss Judy Ronk, the groom's sister, Mrs. Jane Freeseimer, Miss Ellen Schelling, Miss Diane Niebur and Miss Peggy Jaros, bridesmaids.

They selected identical halter style gowns worn with brief jackets. Their dresses were fashioned of yellow voile flocked with white polka dots. Ruffles and lace trimmed the necklines, skirt hems and jackets, the latter made with short puff sleeves. The attendants carried yellow daisies and brown baby breath, looped with yellow and brown ribbon streamers.

Nancy McClew, the bride's

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

niece, was the junior maid. She chose a yellow and white gingham dress with a white eyelet bodice. A ruffle edged the long skirt and she held a basket of yellow daisies.

Amy Gregus, the bride's cousin, was flower girl. She was gown in similar style to the junior maid and was escorted by Todd McClew, the bride's nephew, serving as ringbearer. The groom chose Bill Simmons as his best man and Bill Watson, Tom Messina, Randy Raymond, Greg Goldasich, and Gary St. Ivany as groomsmen. Mark McClew, the bride's nephew, was junior groomsmen.

Following the service, a reception was held at the Croatian Home in Madison. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Charlie's Restaurant.

The former Miss Fryntzko was graduated in 1970 from Granite City High School and from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last month with a degree in mathematics.

Her husband, a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School, was graduated in 1971 from Ranken Technical School. Presently, he is employed as a machinist at Affiliated Hospital Products, St. Louis.

The couple is living in Madison following a wedding trip to Kentucky and Tennessee.

MRS. DAVID F. HENEGHAN, the former Phyllis Ann Rosenberg, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rosenberg, 2264 Cleveland Blvd. She was married Saturday evening at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Alton.

Heneghan-Rosenburg nuptials at St. Paul

Burning tapers in candelabra and vases of white carnations and baby breath on the altar created the setting Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Phyllis Ann Rosenberg and David F. Heneghan.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Roger White at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Alton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rosenberg, 2264 Cleveland Blvd. The groom resides at 68 Park Towne West in Granite City.

Music was provided by Jeanine and Steve Nunn, soloist and guitarist. The selections included "The Wedding Song," "Time in the Bottle," "The First Time Ever" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The former Miss Rosenberg chose a bridal gown of dacron organza with Venice lace rose motifs and daisies trimming the bodice and skirt.

The bishop sleeves were sheer and gathered to lace motifs at the wristband and a sheer yoke effect was created with Venice lace daisies on the bodice and forming the high neckline. Matching lace roses and daisies detailed the A-line skirt, sweeping backward into a chapel train.

She wore a mantilla veil of illusion with Venice lace motifs and she carried a cascade of white carnations and red roses with baby breath and greenery.

The attendants wore Mrs. Linda Wingo, matron of honor, and Mrs. Rita Rosenberg, the bride's sister-in-law, and Mrs. Dolores Caffrey, bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical in style and color fashioned with A-line silhouette skirts in red and white plaid voile over solid white voile empire bodices with peler pan collars.

Narrow grosgrain ribbon and small bow set off the waistline. The sleeveless dresses were worn with fitted bolero jackets of plaid voile and white ripple picture hats banded with red ribbon. They carried peppermint carnation bouquets centered with red roses.

The candlelighters, Sandra Hickman and Lana Driemeyer, wore gowns designed in similar style to the attendants' frocks, only in navy and white plaid voile.

The groom selected as his bestman David Rosenberg, the bride's brother, Jerry Rosenberg, also a brother, and Edward Wingo were groomsmen. William Herman and Bud Caffrey seated the guests.

Mrs. Rosenberg, mother of the bride, chose a long dress and hip length jacket in aqua, worn with white accessories and a white cocktail orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the newlyweds were greeted by friends and relatives at the VFW Hall on Washington Avenue.

At the reception, Glenda Moore was in charge of the passed food and Mary Knight and Carolyn Przygoda served the wedding cake.

The rehearsal dinner was held at Cline's Restaurant. The bride, a graduate of local schools, is employed as a licensed practical nurse in the emergency room at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Her husband attended Lewis University at Lockport, Ill., and Kenrick Theological School in St. Louis. He is employed as a driver's education instructor. After a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Heneghan will reside in Granite City.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brown of Jacksonville, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cour, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher, Mrs. Connie Ricci, Miss Joyce Redfern, all of Springfield, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Heneghan and daughter, Kirkville, Mo.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Redfern, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Redfern and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Redfern, all of Palmyra, Ill.
